Bolete Cafe Table

Patricia Urquiola

The Bolete collection expands with the new Bolete Cafe Table, designed to bring character, sustainability, personality and functionality to public and private spaces. It stands out for its ribbed base and the wide range of shapes and materials available for its tabletops.

Its base represents a natural evolution of the collection, with an organic T-shaped geometry that harmonizes with the various configurations of the series.

Made from Pure ECO® thermopolymer, a 100% recycled and recyclable material, it adopts the distinctive Bolete shape, offering an innovative solution for tables with a wide variety of uses, in group or residential spaces.

A table that stands out for its exceptional personality, character, versatility and functionality, making each piece a unique and special design.

The distinctive character of Bolete is supported by a rigorous technical development that guarantees a robust solution, perfect for any environment. This table is ideal for those seeking a balance between design, sustainability and functionality.
